

Workers' Compensation

Managing the risks of your human capital

IC Frith offers a professional, value-added claims and risk management service to assist employers in the dynamic workers' compensation environment.

We provide best-practice advice and support in all areas relevant to workers' compensation and occupational health and safety. Our approach is to work collaboratively with clients and act as an extension of your human resources, occupational health and safety, and industrial relations services.

Injury Management:

Injury management involves early intervention in medical treatment, retraining, claims handling, rehabilitation and human resource management practices in the workplace.

IC Frith monitors management strategies for claims, reviews estimates and provides a forum for discussion among all stakeholders. Our aim is to ensure clients implement and review effective management strategies, using their preferred medical network, rehabilitation providers and lawyers or IC Frith's recommended partners.

Cost Strategies:

IC Frith provides professional and cost-effective services for premium classifications, premium projections based on claims management strategies, liability exposures and the advantages and disadvantages of your business structure. By providing all suitable alternatives, we empower you to make well-informed commercial decisions.

Allied Services:

To complement our specialist services, IC Frith has an enhanced service delivery offering. This provides a complete and proficient approach to managing all facets of workers' compensation and includes:

- On-site insurer
- Injury management programmes
- Corporate wellness programmes
- On-site treatment and transport service
- OH&S online software programme
- A software package to record the key physical requirements of tasks and safely match these with the functional abilities of workers
- Legal Network
- Medical Specialist Network
